House Newcomers Favor Greater Viet Military Effort

Spending Cut Eyed Next Year

'Rights Plans Not Needed'

Washington (UPI) — A cross-section check by the Associated Press showed that sentiment runs strongly among newly elected members of the House for greater military efforts in Vietnam if present policies fail to improve the war situation.

The newcomers — mostly Republicans — also favor cuts in spending and see no need for new civil rights legislation now.

The poll of 35 first-term House members elected Nov. 8 shows that 20 Republicans and five Democrats favor additional use of U.S. military might if present tactics fail.

Four freshmen oppose expansion of the war and six take no public stand.

While many of those questioned said they would vote for a tax increase if needed because of war costs, all but three said they want first to try cutting spending.

Twenty-four first-termers, including five Democrats said they don't believe new civil rights legislation is needed at this time. Five called for further congressional action and six declined specific comment.

New Course

There has been much speculation on the impact of the election in which Republicans gained 47 House seats.

The influx of new members seems likely to change the course of legislation in the controversial fields of "Great Society" pragroms, taxes and budget cutting.

While they can have no formal voice in determining President Johnson's course in Vietnam, the sharp increase in "hawks" among House members might increase difficulties of the President in keeping the conflict limited in scope.

The "Great Society" programs apparently have lost what may be marginal support with the substantial increase in those who say they are determined to reduce federal spending.

On the basis of the canvass, a civil rights bill which included an antihousing discrimination clause not only would face a probably Senate filibuster but would have extremely difficult going in the House.

The 32-vote margin by which the House voted against striking a housing provision out of this year's bill seems to have been submerged in the flood of ballots last month.

The Republicans, of course, have considerably more new members than the Democrats. The canvass reached 26 of the 48 new House Republicans and 9 of the 14 Democrats.

Hill Views State Board
'Some Educational Leadership Lost'

By DICK HERMAN

Dr. Ray Hill of Seward, a member of the State Board of Education since its creation in 1954, Tuesday declared the board surrendered some of its educational leadership role in the last year.

Attending his final board meeting, Dr. Hill said leadership has been lost to the State Committee for Reorganization of School Districts. It is one of the board's advisory units.

"We have allowed them to take a strong stand and we have taken a weak stand," Dr. Hill asserted.

The Seward physician did not run for re-election.

The issue Dr. Hill focused on was whether the state board really sees Class VI districts — which offer only secondary schooling — as being the equal of consolidated districts in providing equal and quality education.

Class VI districts have been long backed by rural school forces, notably the Nebraska School Improvement Assn., as an alternative to unified districts.

The board's formal policy favors unified districts.

But since the election two years ago to the board of John Wagoner, Grand Island attorney, there has been a shifting of informal ground.

State Education Dept. staffers have been cautioned in talking with citizens not to favor any one kind of district over another.

In this attiutde, Wagoner—not at the board meeting Tuesday — has attracted an ally in Frank Landis of Lincoln, board president.

Landis Tuesday suggested the question be resolved by the 1967 Legislature, which passes on and permits six different kinds of school districts in Nebraska.

He said if senators determine a Class VI district can't provide the desired quality of education, then the legislators can abolish the district as a legal entity.

This is exactly what the state reorganization committee had proposed several months ago.

The Class VI district administratively is superimposed on a confederation of Class I—or elementary—only — districts. It has its own board and hires its own staff.

Independence

This arrangement permits Class I districts, almost entirely rural school districts, to keep their independence and their own property tax levies, while having some voice in secondary schooling.

There are about 20 Class VI districts in Nebraska now, with the NSIA pushing for creation of new ones in preference to large-scale reorganization.

Dr. Hills said the board's recent position on Class VI districts versus consolidated districts has "tied the hands" of the State Education Dept.

Landis agreed this was so.

But Landis argued Class VI districts could be improved and be educationally more desirable. He suggested the reorganization committee took "too firm a stand."

With Dr. Hill in a final appearance Tuesday was Fremont financier Hamilton Mitten. He was defeated for reelection by Allen Burkhardt of Norfolk.

The meeting was also the last one for the board in a room it has occupied for years. Since the State Capitol was built 40 years ago, the State Education Dept.'s headquarters has been Room 2010. Now the Legislature has ordered the state education commissioner to vacate the area so lawmakers can occupy it in January.

U.S. Protest Delivered To Soviets

'Responsible For Vladimir'

Moscow (UPI) — The United States protested Tuesday Russia's "impermissible treatment" of an American travel agent arrested by Czech police while flying on a Soviet airliner.

The strong protest was the first delivered here in the case of Vladimir Kazan-Komarek, a Czech-born naturalized American who was arrested in Prague on Oct. 31 and charged with high treason and murder.

The protest note, delivered to the Soviet foreign ministry by U.S. embassy political consular D. E. Boster, rejected Soviet denials of responsibility in the case. It said the Soviet airline had a "direct responsibility" and demanded that the Kremlin take steps to free the agent.

Kazan-Komarek, who left Czechoslovakia after the Communists took power there, had come to Moscow for a World Travel Agents Conference—his first trip back behind the Iron Curtain.

At the end of the conference, he boarded a Soviet Aeroflot airliner for a nonstop flight to Paris. But the plane made an unscheduled landing in Prague. During the stopover, Kazan-Komarek was arrested and the plane flew to Paris without him.

American officials pressed for information and were told by the Soviets that the airliner was forced to land because of "radar malfunctions."

The Russians disclaimed all responsibility for the arrest. They said Prague is a "designated emergency landing field for this route"—even though it lies some 300 miles south of the route.

U.N. Will Study Plans To Build

Shortage Of Space

Chicago Daily News Special

United Nations — United Nations and New York City officials are considering plans to expand southward along the East River to alleviate a severe office and storage space problem for the worldwide organization.

A "feasibility study" has been offered free-of-charge to the U.N. by the East River-Turtle Bay Fund, Inc.

Sec.-Gen. Thant told a U.N. committee Monday the proposal "merits serious consideration" and asked to shelve a previous proposal for a $150,000 architectural and engineering study on a site north of the present U.N. complex.

Mayor John Lindsay of New York and U.S. Ambassador to the U.N. Arthur Goldberg have reportedly endorsed the plan put forward by the East River-Turtle Bay group.

The fund was established in May, 1966, specifically to grapple with the problem of U.N. expansion. The Ford Foundation, the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, the Carnegie Endowment Institute, the New York City Planning Commission and the U.S. Mission to the U.N. were among its founders.

The group has proposed plans that would involve building a platform joining the present U.N. complex to a site south of 42nd St.

The platform would be built over the street traffic area and F.D.R. Drive, and could hold an additional U.N. office building. Sub-platforms could be added to allow for printing, storage of records and parking space.

The site covers three to four acres and is now owned by Consolidated Edison, which has announced it would be willing to sell to the U.N. "subject to timing and price."

Sanction Reaction
Rhodesia Move Dives British Stock Prices

London (UPI) — Stock prices lost more than $2.8 million in paper values Tuesday in the first reaction to Britain's reluctant decision to call for United Nations sanctions against rebel Rhodesia — a move that could cripple Britain's own economy.

The value of the pound sterling weakened so sharply the Bank of England was forced to dip into its dollar reserves to bolster it in the foreign exchange markets. Later the rush to sell sterling on the world markets slacked off.

A feeling of crisis unmatched since the Suez crisis fell over parliament, faced with the possibility of new troubles among the Black African nations and possible difficulties with South Africa which supports Rhodesia in the crisis.

Rhodesia, confident it can weather any economic storm, issued a searing broadcast against the British terms for settlement of the Rhodesian independence dispute.

The information ministry issued a 12-page statement saying British Prime Minister Harold Wilson had demanded the "unconditional and abject surrender" of Rhodesia on four main counts:

—Control of the Rhodesian government.

—Control of the armed forces and police.

—Control of all government executive services including the Civil Service.

—Control of the national budget.

British Foreign Sec. George Brown was headed for New York to ask the Security Council for selective mandatory sanctions Britain hoped would hit rebellious Rhodesia but avoid a trade war with South Africa. He was expected to unveil the plan before the council, possibly Thursday morning.

Diplomatic sources said British strategy will be guided by two considerations — to hit the main Rhodesian exports which bring in needed foreign exchange, but to avoid any action that would directly involve South Africa, an important British trading partner.

The sanctions will concentrate on such key exports as tobacco, asbestos, chrome, meat, pig iron and sugar. Britain is certain to incur African nations' displeasure if it does not insist on similar measures against Rhodesian imports, particularly oil which flows into Rhodesia through the South African back door.

To do this might anger South Africa and cost Britain a disastrous $900 million a year in trade at a time when Britain's economy is in dire shape, as reflected in the plunging stock prices today.

Painting Slicer Is Arrested

Four Pieces In Capitol

Washington (UPI) — Four historical paintings, including the huge "Signing of the Constitution," were slashed Tuesday in the U.S. Capitol.

Capitol police arrested a man identified as George Palakian, formerly of Paterson, N.J., and said he would be charged with destruction of government property.

Inspector James M. Powell, chief of the Capitol police, said papers carried by Palakian showed his former address as 275 Market Street in Paterson.

Three of the paintings hung on the third floor of the House wing and the fourth, Howard Chandler Christy's 20 by 30 foot "Signing of the Constitution," covered an entire wall above the stair landing between the second and third floors.

A tile setter, Thomas Seekford of Takoma Park, Md., said he was working nearby when a friend told him someone was cutting the paintings.

Seekford said he walked over and saw a man slicing a pair of scissors through the canvas of one of the paintings. Seekford said he asked, "Hey buddy, did you do that?" and the man answered, "Yes."

Seekford said he asked why, and the man replied, "I was looking for Congress," turning toward him with the scissors.

Seekford said because of the scissors, he did not approach the man but followed him down a corridor until he found an officer to arrest him.

Centennial Pageant Given Final Touches

By JACK FROST

Final preparations for the Pageant of the Century were held Tuesday morning.

All 71 beauties were on stage going through the 90 minute production which will open the 8 p.m. show in Pershing Auditorium Tuesday night.

Procedures were being ironed out between the technicians and producer-director Jack Learned of Grand Island. When to throw a spot light here or to dim a spot light there; pauses for narrator Bart Lewis of Lincoln to observe; details to be smoothed out for Mistress of Ceremony Mrs. Maxine Morrison working with Centennial Commission Director Don Shriner; a run through with music and dance under the watchful eyes of choreographer Billie Anderson of Grand Island; a hundred minor details that all have to be attended.

A 13-piece orchestra will provide original music written by Dr. James Thayer of Sidney.

Pershing is clean swept, the chairs are in place awaiting an anticipated crowd of more than 6,000. The stage is set for the selection of Nebraska's Centennial Queen and her court.

Center stage has a large replica of the state capitol surrounded by more than a hundred chairs placed on risers. The performance will take place in front of the actual stage on specially built platforms to give the audience an easy view.

Another 26 'Super' Miles Open Friday

By Associated Press

The State Roads Dept. announced Tuesday another 26 miles of Interstate 80 highway will be opened to traffic Friday.

The department said the eastbound lanes between Hershey and North Platte and the westbound lanes between Maxwell and North Platte will be opened without ceremonies at noon.

The eastbound lanes of the Maxwell-North Platte stretch were opened in September.

The additional mileage, coupled with last week's opening of the Giltner-Henderson segment, will give Nebraska a 290-mile stretch of continuous Interstate from Hershey to Omaha, the department said.

Georgia 'Will Bow To Ruling'

Atlanta (UPI) — The Georgia Legislature apparently will bow to the will of the U.S. Supreme Court and seat controversial Negro Rep-elect Julian Bond when it convenes next month.

"I see no other alternative but that he be seated," said Rep. George L. Smith, the probable Speaker of the House. "That is the law of the country."

The Supreme Court ruled Monday the legislature had violated Bond's right to "free expression" by twice refusing him admission to the 1966 session because of his statements against U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Bond, 26, former publicity chairman for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), said he was "tremendously pleased and happy" with the decision.

Head Start Seeds 'Dying' in Homelife

By CHARLES NICODEMUS
Chicago Daily News Special

Washington—Operation Head Start—that darling of the War on Poverty, that nationally praised program for poor pre-schoolers—is shaping up as a bust, an exercise in futility.

That harsh judgment comes not from any examination of Head Start's effectiveness in giving disadvantaged youngsters a boost toward a better education and thus a better life. The program is highly effective — as far as it goes.

Opinion Analysis Of Author

Nonetheless, it is a futile effort because this marvelously conceived, imaginative approach to attacking poverty on the ground floor is just that — an "approach."

And it is, sadly, an approach on which there is no follow-through.

As a result, the seeds planted in this most successful of all anti-poverty offensives are dying in the hard, inhospitable clay of impoverished home lives and cultural denial.

All this has begun to come clear as a result of the research projects that R. Sargent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity has conducted, in an attempt to follow what happens to Head Start graduates.

The first results were heartwarming, encouraging.

But the second round of research just now coming in—on the continued progress made by the children as their Head Start experience falls further and further behind them—is showing just what many sociologists and educators feared:

Head Start children tested at the end of kindergarten are showing no more advancement than other underprivileged children who received no special training.

It is, of course, no fault of the program itself.

But it is inevitable that Head Start children, since they continue in their generally corrosive home environment of poverty, will soon have erased from their life and thought the special training, perspectives, and understanding that the Head Start "mix" of cultural exposure and education imparted.

With no follow-through program, either federal or local, either scholastic or medical, to nourish these slim, sputtering educational flames, they soon flicker out.

Drafting Everyone Proposed

Chicago Daily News Special

Chicago — Anthropologist Margaret Mead presented her plan for a new draft system Tuesday: Take everyone — men and women, bright and dull, healthy and infirm.

Her "national service corps" is the most radical alternative to the Selective Service system proposed so far at a conference on the draft at the University of Chicago being attended by 50 social scientists.

Miss Mead's idea had severe critics.

"My flesh creeps at the idea," said Paul Lauter, a Quaker and peace education secretary for the Chicago office of American Friends Service Committee.

Miss Mead and other proponents of compulsory national service say it would be the fairest way to recruit an army.

"If every young adult were subjected to the same initial form of arbitrary involvement, the current feelings of envy and guilt would be greatly lessened," Miss Mead said.

Social Change

She also believes national service could reduce a wide range of social ills, from delinquency and illiteracy to teen-age marriages.

Under Miss Mead's plan, all young people would be recruited and tested at age 18 or 19. She explained:

"Every individual, including the physically handicapped, the mentally defective, the emotionally disturbed, the totally illiterate, would be registered.

"Everyone, according to his needs or potentialities would be assigned to rehabilitation and education units or to different kinds of services."

Recruits would choose whether they want military service or some sort of welfare work, such as the Peace Corps.

U.S. Loses Another Plane In Tangle With Red Migs

Saigon (AP) — Another U.S. plane was shot down over North Vietnam Tuesday, bringing the toll in the last 24 hours of the quickening air war to three American aircraft.

The U.S. Command announced that American jets tangled with Communist Mig interceptors Monday for the fourth straight day, but there was no word that any American or North Vietnamese planes were downed in the dogfights.

In South Vietnam, Vietnamese military headquarters announced the mass surrender of 63 Viet Cong guerrillas in the enemy-infested Hon Chong (twin sisters) mountain area on the Gulf of Siam near the Cambodian border.

A spokesman said that 2,250 peasants in the area dominated by the Viet Cong also sought the refuge of government and U.S. officials. The U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) arranged to send them rice, cooking oil, blankets and other supplies.

U.S. air raids over North Vietnam once again dominated war developments and the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported only small, scattered ground fighting.

438th Plane

The plane lost Tuesday—the 438th reported loss of the war over North Vietnam—was an Air Force RF4C photo reconnaissance jet downed by ground fire near Dien Bien Phu close to the Laotian border. It was the 11th American plane lost in the North since Friday.

The Season to Be Jolly

The Christmas spirit seems to be visiting Omaha earlier than usual this year. At least there are visions of sugarplums dancing in many a head in the Nebraska metropolis.

* * *

There is, for instance, the announced intent of Omaha Sen. Clifton Batchelder to limit state appropriations for the coming biennium to the level appropriated by the 1965 Legislature.

* * *

Such a course ignores the realities of soaring enrollments at state educational institutions, the wasteful turnover of state employes who are paid less than those of any neighboring states, the nation's lowest level of state aid to education, a myriad of other unmet needs, to say nothing of higher costs due to inflation.

Batchelder, who characterizes his fellow legislators as jackals and hyenas, was even criticized for his impracticality by Omaha Sen. George Syas.

At about the same time, another Omaha legislator, Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr., was proposing to make the University of Omaha a state-supported institution. This is logical enough, since Omaha voters have served notice they do not intend to provide the added financial support it obviously needs.

But Pedersen would establish the Omaha school as wholly separate from the University of Nebraska, a completely independent institution with no coordination with other state-supported facilities for higher education.

* * *

This sounds pretty unrealistic and extravagent and certainly doesn't square with the Batchelder theory of no more state spending.

Then along comes the official newspaper of the Omaha Catholic Archdiocese, the True Voice, with a neat and painless answer to Nebraska's tax problems. Instead of a sales or income tax, Nebraska need only boost its tax on pari-mutual horse race betting to 10%, as the True Voice sees it. The rate now is 4%.

There's nothing wrong with hiking the pari-mutuel tax and maybe this should be done. But before this is portrayed as the panacea for state taxpayers, it should be considered that, even at 10%, this will raise only about $5 million, roughly one-tenth of what is needed to replace the outlawed state property tax.

There are even suggestions coming from Omaha that Gov.-elect Norbert Tiemann, who won a smashing victory just a month ago, really didn't mean all those things he was saying about building Nebraska and improving education and developing junior colleges and vocational schools and expanding medical, industrial and agricultural research and building highways and upgrading mental hospitals.

In actuality, there is not the slightest indication from the incoming governor that he does not plan to pursue vigorously these and other programs he advanced during the campaign.

* * *

During this season of Christmas wishbooks and dancing sugarplums, such flights of fancy might be overlooked. But as soon as the holidays are over, the Nebraska Legislature convenes — and the delusions of Wonderland once again will become the realities of Nebraskaland.

West (Nebraska) Joins East

When two ribbons were symbolically joined on Nebraska's Interstate Highway near Aurora it marked more than the linking of two segments of the finest trafficway man has yet devised.

* * *

It commemorated, quite literally, the firmer linking of two segments of Nebraska which often have viewed themselves as being at cross purposes.

* * *

Perhaps as much as any event in the history of the state, the Interstate linkage at Aurora facilitated a meeting of east and west in Nebraska.

Central Nebraska now is only a matter of two or three hours removed from the Capital City. Driving time from Grand Island to Lincoln now is only about the same as that from Omaha to Lincoln a few years ago.

For this milestone in Nebraska history, a number of organizations share credit. Key to the accomplishment, of course, is the federal program of interstate highways. Contributing to the Aurora linkage was the Nebraska Highway Department and the construction companies which have unrolled a concrete surface at record rates.

No entity is entitled to more recognition for this occasion, though, than the group known as Greater Nebraska Interstate (GNI). Made up of community leaders from Lincoln westward, this organization was the greatest single force in assuring that the super-highway would be completed across Nebraska at the earliest possible moment.

It was the persistence and informed persuasiveness of GNI that was most responsible for reversing the early state policy of building the entire interstate network within Omaha before extending it west of Lincoln. Thanks to GNI, the state changed to a policy of building rural and urban portions of the road at the same pace.

* * *

The wisdom of that decision was high among the achievements being honored at Aurora last Saturday.

A Bit Too Much

The American Civil Liberties Union is dedicated to protecting liberties in the United States and gets little thanks for it, often because it champions the liberties of unsavory characters. Critics do not see this as a protection of the liberties of all.

* * *

However, it seemed a little much when the ACLU took exception to the Christmas stamp which is a reproduction of the painting, "Madonna and Child With Angels."

* * *

"It has a religious motif, a Christian motif," cried the ACLU, "and it therefore is a governmental means of showing preference for a single religion . . . clearly a preferential governmental aid in propagating a religious faith."

This seems ridiculous. Every new stamp is not a government policy. Stamps have carried pictures of great men, and commemorative events. One writer suggests that if the ACLU theory were carried to extreme the 1939 stamp which paid homage to "Centennial of Baseball" could be taken as an endorsement of baseball over football.

Christmas is an honored and recognized holiday in the United States. For those of the Christian faith it is a religious holiday and the Christmas stamp may have meaning for them. No others need buy them. There is nothing compulsory about it, stamp buyers have other choices.

* * *

There are areas in state and religion over which ACLU is justified in showing concern, but to our way of thinking the Christmas stamp is not one of them.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND'S Opinion

Federal Aid Tangle

Washington—An important area of agreement is emerging in Washington. It is on the need for massive infusions of federal money into the states and whether local government can survive the treatment.

Drummond

This startling consensus—not total but growing—is reflected in recent statements by the powerful chairman of the House Republican policy committee, Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, and by the secretary of the pervasive Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, John W. Gardner.

Laird certainly isn't talking traditional Republican policy. Secy. Gardner certainly isn't talking like a traditional federal bureaucrat. I suspect each is breaking new ground in his own thinking.

* *

Laird candidly told the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders that the old Republican practice of waiting around to see whether the states and cities can themselves solve their massive problems is outdated.

"That formula is unworkable," Laird said. "Crime continues to rise, education continues to be inadequate, slums continue to grow worse. More Americans go on the welfare rolls and government services on the state and local level continue to be underfinanced and in many cases ineffective."

Though he wants changes in the way the federal government helps the states and cities, Laird—a conservative—agrees that mounting federal assistance is needed "if the quality of American life" is not to deteriorate.

Gardner would certainly agree. And Gardner himself in his testimony before the Senate committee on government operations cited the danger of the "complete subordination" of weak state and local governments through the increasingly large sums of money flowing to them from Washington. "all state and local governments would then be mere branch offices of one all-dominating national government," he warned.

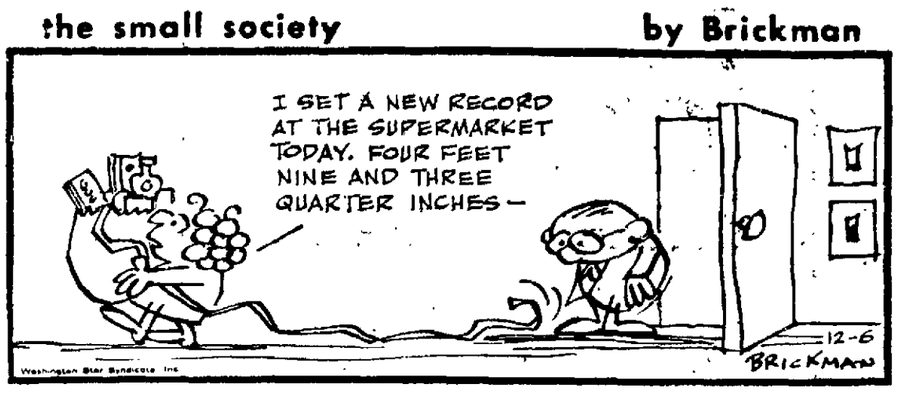

No conventional bureaucrat, Gardner was unconventionally frank in acknowledging that decisions as to how the federal government shall manage its programs whether in ways which strengthen or ways which undermine state and local government—"are often made with no consciousness of what is at stake." Laird would certainly agree.

Laird is frank to say that "many of the ills of our society are not being solved at the local and state level." Laird disputes those federal officials who believe the problems remain unsolved because the state and local people cannot solve them. But he contends that these problems remain unsolved because the state and local government lack resources to tackle them - resources the federal government has dried up.

Laird's alternative to vast federal grants-in-aid is federal revenue-sharing with the states and with the fewest possible strings. This will be a big issue before the new Congress next year.

Anne Frank

Auburn — J. M. (Public Mind, Nov. 24) takes "The Diary of Anne Frank" for more than the propaganda it is; as we know now that Germany's only crime was that she tried to defend herself against aggressive Communists.

Hate Germany propaganda started in early 1920's and films, books, news, radio, television still spout Hate Germany. The truth is suppressed while we wine and dine the real murderers, with our own tax money.

Anne Frank's father, Karl Frank, was a German Communist since 1926 and was a close friend of Otto John, once head of Konrad Adenauer's Secret Service in West Germany.

Otto John recommended Karl Frank for security work in the American sector of Germany, he helped prepare the details of the prosecution of the Nazis. These men worked with Guy Burgess, a Communist Soviet agent in Great Britain and he is now in Moscow.

At the time of first publication of Anne Frank's diary her father, in New York City for a court hearing, stated that the "statements attributed to her could not be from a girl of her age."

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester tells us, "The government can lie to save itself" has never been repudiated by this administration, but we can read.

We are suckers as usual, swallowing the dangled bait of Communism without ever suspecting that a vicious red hook is concealed inside.

Just Reward?

Lincoln—As a retired pastor, I was interested in the letter by Pastor John Bender, (Public Mind Nov. 25).

A good answer to his letter was just above his, signed "Reader". I don't know where Bender got his information but I'm certain that he didn't get it from the proper source. Where I live the clergymen of all faiths are friendly and try to understand each other's viewpoints in regard to their creed.

Catholics believe in doing penance. Abstaining from meat on Friday has been a law of the church and since the church made the law she can change it. That does not mean no other kind of penance is necessary.

Regarding marriage, Bender gives the impression that the single state is enforced upon the religions. No one is accepted into the seminary or covent if they can't abide by the rule. Did Bender ever hear about the many men and women who have volunteered to administer to the helpless with contagious diseases? You will find very few married taking such a risk.

As clergymen are noted for telling jokes, I'll conclude with this one. A minister dreamed that he went to his eternal reward, but when he awoke he discovered that the heat blanket was turned too high.

Lincoln — The Lincoln Area Heart Association would like to thank the many people and groups who made Heart Bowling Week a success.

The bowling proprietors, league secretaries, sports editors and announcers, liaison people, Sigma Nu Fraternity, Alpha Phi and Pi Phi Sororities, Student Nurses, tabulators Jack Plamondon and Mark Hegg and most of all the many bowlers who participated.

The Lincoln Journal's publicity helped make this first tournament an outstanding success.

Christmas Truce

Steinauer — What would happen if we brought the philosophy of the Vietnam Christmas truce to the local level? To have the FBI, Highway Patrol, County sheriff, policemen say, "You offenders lay off during the holidays and we will too."

Let us pray, work, sweat and bleed to bring understanding to all men.

JOHN BENDER

Boycott

Lincoln—The following from the Council Bluffs NonPareil:

"Wouldn't you know that the leader of the supermarket boycott group in Denver is the wife of a federal government worker, an Internal Revenue Service employe? We don't know anything abut the history of the embittered shopper's husband but we would be willing to wager:

"1. That he is a left-wing liberal who has not participated in and knows next to nothing about the free enterprise system;

"2. That he has had at least seven pay raises in the last four years;

"3. That he is drawing at least 20% more money now than he did four years ago;

"4. That he gets more time off in sick leave and paid vacation than the manager of the supermarket his wife is boycotting;

"5. That there are at least 20% more employes in the department for which he works than there were four years ago; and

"6. That the total taxes paid by him and his wife have increased more in the past four years than food bills."

DISGUSTED TAXPAYER

Upset Tax System

Lincoln — There should be considerable concern over the legalistic imponderables created by upsetting an established tax system, in favor of none at all. Perhaps we shall be obligated to draft some Philadelphia lawyers to unravel the complex ramifications of this hilarious situation.

It's even more deplorable when you realize that only about 10% of your local tax bill is involved or affected by these election mandates.

An isolated use of the term "property tax" on the ballots, with neither limtiations or restrictions as to scope or extent, opens wide the door for as many different interpretations, as there are would be state tax experts.

We should now prepare to meet and greet both the wealthy and the non-wealthy, who will stampede to this tax-exempted territory.

On the Campuses

In the believe it or nots the University of Chicago must rank with the University of California (Berkeley) but in reverse. The University of Chicago more than a quarter of a century ago was an educational avant-garde. It dropped football in 1939.

Now the student government has recommended the school resume intercollegiate football. The idea is to go back on sort of a refined basis, Ivy League style.

The students got some encouragement from the dean of students and the athletic director. Jay Berwanger, all-American in 1935, the last great football player the Maroons produced and now a Chicago business man, also endorsed the idea. He, too, is for its return only on a restricted scale and said he thought Chicago should play its own caliber educationally.

* * *

At the University of Nebraska where there is a great football team which takes on teams of its own caliber athletically, students are restlessly exploring ways to increase their educational experiences. This is taking the form of a promotion of a Free University within the University. The Coordinating Committee for a Free University (CCFU) says that the University is not realizing its goal for total education.

To achieve this goal the committee would provide a structure where any interested person or organization may lead courses on any subject. A group of 10 faculty members, graduate students and campus organizations have committed themselves to lead Free University courses.

The Sorbonne (Paris) proves that all students have their lighter moments. The Insider's Newsletter reports on a student poll at Sorbonne in which students gave the opinion of the ideal man and the ideal woman.

The male students chose a woman with American legs, a French walk, English curves, a Swedish bosom, Italian eyes, Japanese ears and Danish hair, who would flirt like a Greek girl, love like a Russian, keep house like a German, be as obedient as an Oriental and dress like an American.

The coeds chose a man with an Irish smile, Greek shoulders, English thighs, an Argentine torso, Russian arms and American muscles. They'd also like him to have Viennese gallantry, an Irish gift of gab, British sophistication, Dutch honesty, Swiss stability —and American money.

WILLIAM S. WHITE'S Opinion

Middle East Crisis

Washington—A new crisis, or rather a new heating-up of an old and chronic crisis, is churning in the Middle East. As always, the real villain is the Soviet Union. And, again as always, the principle victim is Israel.

White

The plain reality is that the Russians are running a proxy "war of liberation" against the Israelis through Arab guerrilla attacking forces which use other people's territory—in this case Jordan's. The technique is not much different from the secondhand invasion of South Vietnam being similarly conducted at long distance by Communist China through North Vietnamese stooges and the South Vietnamese traitor-Communists called the Viet Cong.

* *

The Israelis, repeatedly provoked by stealthy assaults across their borders from floating Arab guerrillas, finally respond by sending troops in hot pursuit into Jordan. The United Nations, predictably and indeed in this case by sheer necessity, retorts by solemnly condemning Israel. This is an act both of hypocrisy and of quite unavoidable hypocrisy.

* * *

For King Hussein of Jordan is not responsible, nor is Jordan collectively, for the circumstance that its soil is being employed by bandits whose hatred of Israel is matched by their hopes to destroy Hussein himself. In truth, Hussein is hard put to keep his own people from insisting upon military counteraction against Israel. Thus, it is clearly necessary to strengthen his restraining hand; hence the U.N. vote of censure against Israel.

This is the way power politics is played and here must be played. For the maintenance of Hussein's legitimate position as a moderate force in the Middle East is of the highest importance to all save the Communists, not least to Israel itself.

* * *

Assault Complaints

All the same, this is hard times for Israelis who habitually receive a tut-tut answer when they go to the U.N. to complain of assaults from without and are habitually found to be bad fellows when they use candid power in self-defense. Again and again, they are on the whip end of a double standard in the U.N. which the Communist members are happy, of course, to employ and which Western powers are sometimes compelled to employ.

To say that the Western nations simply must so act is to say only the hard truth, in this current instance anyhow. For let Hussein be overthrown in Jordan by alleged "democratic revolutionaries" who are in fact Communist-led infiltrators and the Communists at one stroke will have both destroyed an anti-Communist center and increased their ultimate capacity to put pressure upon Israel itself.

Still, to accept the unalterable realities of a harsh world is one thing; to pretend that this marvelous example of "world opinion" in the U.N. is a perfectly splendid act is something else again. For in plain words it is a shabby business that the one really strong and responsible anti-Communist power in the Middle East, Israel, must receive the heads-I-win, tails-you-lose justice of the U.N.

No doubt the Israelis will survive this latest instance of the operation of 'world opinion,' though there is clear danger that the U.N. decision will embolden the aggressors to suppose they can hit Israel's border with impunity and immunity. Fair-minded men can only hope that this will not be the case. At the very least, fair-minded men owe a great deal of respect for the patience and the toughness of these Israeli fellows who alone must be required to pay the bill for the kind of power politics that must indeed be played in this tragic situation.

* * *

The final truth is that the Communists and their unwitting allies and dupes among the soft-liners, the "negotiators," the peace-at-any pricers, have got the Israelis over much the same kind of double-talking barrel that they have so long sought to put the U.S over in our Vietnamese troubles.

More Aid Sought

Council of Blind Will Propose Legislation

By BESS JENKINS

The 1967 Legislature definitely will be asked to raise the $110 monthly maximum assistance payments to Nebraska's aged, disabled and blind as much as $30.

Despite State Welfare's E. D. Warnsholz' report that "someone" has informed him legislation to hike payments to $135 will be introduced, the Nebraska Council of the Blind voted Monday to submit its own measure.

The request for the blind, automatically applicable to all three aid categories, will seek $140 monthly maximums.

Represented at the Council meeting here were the Omaha Association of Blind, the Nebraska State Association of Workers for the Blind and the Lincoln Braille Club.

Lincoln member Bob Nally received support of the group in his opinion that the Council should have its own bill.

"We want to know what is in it," he proposed. "We shouldn't vote today to support another bill which Mr. Warnsholz says is planned if we don't know what it will provide."

The group discussed but tabled proposals for legislation which would eliminate maximums. This would have meant each payment would be set to meet individual needs.

Warnsholz, meeting with the blind council, said costs of a welfare program on which there are no payment limits would be difficult to determine for the Legislature.

He reported the department currently is surveying assistance caseloads to determine how much more a new $135 maximum would cost the state.

The current $110 maximum, in force the past four years, is costing Nebraska about $9 million annually or $750,000 monthly. This is exclusive of medical service payments.

Warnsholz said there are about 400 blind, 3,000 aid to the disabled and 13,000 aged recipients on state rolls today.

Adoption of a $135 or $140 maximum does not, of course, mean that all 20,000 Nebraskans will get the total larger sum any more than all receive the present $110.

Such income sources as Social Security are considered before state assistance is given any recipient, resulting in an average $50 plus monthly payment.

On the other hand, Warnsholz added, the average monthly medical payment made to welfare recipients amounts to well over $50.

30 Irving Pupils Hit Pickering

A petition protesting a Thanksgiving message delivered by Dr. Alan J. Pickering at Irving Junior High School has been signed by 30 pupils.

Dr. Pickering is director of the United Campus Christian Fellowship of the University of Nebraska.

Admitting that "maybe Dr. Pickering meant well, for he presented a few good points," the speech was labeled as probably aspiring from a Socialist's point of view.

The message, according to the petition, "seemed to give support to the controversial 'Black Power' and called for the giving of even more domestic aid to underprivileged countries in exchange for military aid with which to fight Communism."

The petitions said Dr. Pickering also found "many faults in a democratic society," but he failed to find much fault with the Communist governments of the world, "who anyone knows have stacked up crime after crime against free society."

"If they think that's what I said, they just weren't listening very closely," Pickering declared.

Irving Principal D. L. Grassmeyer reported the pupils were courteous throughout and Dr. Pickering received "normal applause."

The 30 signatures are not very significant in a school of 910 pupils, he said.

Beatrice Home Starts Annual Gift Campaign

The Beatrice State Home Assn. for Retarded Children has launched its annual campaign to obtain gifts for the one-third of Beatrice Home's 2,000 residents who have no families.

"Without help from the state's communities, these men and women and children would not have the joy of opening gifts as the other two-thirds will do Christmas morning," Allen McElravy said. The Lincoln man heads the statewide association.

McElravy said civic and service clubs, church groups, women's clubs, sororities and fraternities may send gifts directly to the Home or may write to Social Services there for more detailed information.

Mixing Bowl

New Candies, Cookies Irresistible At Christmastime

By POLLY PARSONS

Talking about candies and cookies at Christmastime is irresistible and it's fun to add new recipes to the collection of family favorites.

Holiday Fruit Balls

- 1 8-ounce package pitted dates
- 1 cup figs
- 1 cup dried apricots
- 1½ cups shredded coconut
- 3 to 4 tablespoons lemon or orange juice
- Granulated sugar or coconut

Finely cut or chop fruits or put through food grinder. Mix in coconut. Add enough fruit juice to moisten, mixing well. Shape into 1¼-inch balls.

Chill. Roll in granulated sugar or coconut. Makes about 4 dozen.

Scandanavian Sunbakles

- ¾ cup solid shortening
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups sifted all purpose flour

Cream together shortening and butter until light and fluffy. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Beat in egg and salt. Gradually mix in flour.

Chill dough thoroughly. Press about 1 tablespoon dough over bottom and sides of 2¼-inch fluted tart pans (or shape into 1-inch balls.)

Place on baking sheets and bake in 350 degree oven 15 minutes, or until very lightly browned. Cool slightly, then remove from pans, loosening edges with a sharp, pointed knife. Makes about 4 dozen.

Jam Pockets

- 1 cup solid shortening
- 1 8-ounce package softened cream cheese
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- Apricot, raspberry, strawberry, or peach jam
- Cream

Cream together shortening, cream cheese and salt. Add flour gradually, blending well. Divide dough in thirds and chill several hours.

Roll out to ⅛-inch thickness on floured surface. Cut into circles with 2½-inch biscuit cutter or into 3-inch squares. Spoon small amount of jam in center of each.

Brush edges of dough with cream. Fold over half of dough, sealing edges with fork. Brush tops with cream; prick with fork.

Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in 375 degree oven 15 minutes, or until browned. Cool on rack. Makes 4½ dozen.

Symphony Chorale Performs at NWU

By RAYMOND HAGGH

A concert by the Lincoln Symphony Chorale, directed by Hugh Rangeler, and sponsored by the Lincoln Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Assn., was given Monday night at the Nebraska Wesleyan University Fine Arts Center.

Organist-accompanist for the evening was C. Richard Morris, minister of music at First-Plymouth Congregational Church.

The Lincoln Symphony Chorale was officially organized last year as a result of Mr. Rangeler's efforts. Their activities include not only Monday night's program but an appearance later with the Lincoln Symphony. They are a strong group with much potential as they demonstrated in their first concert of the year.

The program opened with a brief cantata "Command Thine Angel That He Come" by Dietrich Buxtehude, a Baroque master of the latter half of the 17th century. Buxtehude left not only a very impressive fund of great organ music, but also much attractive and interesting choral music.

Two excerpts from Vivaldi's "Gloria" followed: "Gloria in Excelsis" and "On earth be peace to all men."

Richard Morris concluded the first half of the program with three organ works, "Postorale" of J. S. Bach, a "Noel" of Daquin and "Improvisation on God Rest You Merry" of Myron J. Roberts. These works were well chosen to demonstrate the auditorium's new organ as well as Mr. Morris' capabilities. The Daquin piece with its interesting colors and manual shifts was particularly effective.

Some of the registration in the Bach was almost inaudible to the listener, probably because of acoustics, since the full impact of the organ tone does not seem to reach into the auditorium. At the beginning of this work, the interplay between solo voice and contrapuntal accompaniment was often lost to the ear.

Zoltan Kodaly's "Missa Brevis", written first with an organ accompaniment in mind in 1942 (later orchestrated in 1944), occupied the last half of the program. It is a "Mass in Time of War" and a work with many beautiful effects and moments. The Chorale did its best singing in this work, giving a warm and enthusiastic performance of it.

Kodaly intermingles solo voices and chorus throughout with great skill: these were sung by Mary Gray, contralto; Wilmar Wall, tenor, and Max Bunker, baritone, as well as a trio of women's voices sung by Mary Price, Karen Kirchner and Hilde Haggh, sopranos.

Credit is due to Mr. Rangeler, who has given so much time and energy to this performance and to Mr. Morris who performed all accompaniments with great skill and sensitivity, as well as to the choristers themselves, who for love of singing have accomplished so much as a group.

REAL ESTATE TIPS

A. MANZITTO "YOUR REALTOR"

Q. We own an older home with a very small garage that is in poor condition. Should we tear it down & build another or repair it?

A. Don't do a thing. Let the new owner decide what he wants to do with it. He may be handy enough to repair or enlarge it himself. A new garage would cost him around $1,000 & he may be able to repair it himself for less than $200.

Ann Landers.... Answers Personal Problems

Head Up; Dad's Actions Not Your Responsibility

Dear Ann Landers: I am so mortified, I could die. I'm a senior in high school and president of our "Tri Hi Y" Club. One meeting was at my house.

My father came home about 9:30 p.m.—roaring drunk. He sat himself down in the middle of our meeting and took over. When I tried to get him to leave the room, he went on a crying jag, said nobody wanted him around any more and that the whole world was against him.

Then he became abusive to my friends, called them names and told them to get out of the house. Everyone left, without even eating the refreshments I had worked so hard to prepare.

My father has been a heavy drinker for as long as I can remember, but this is the first time he has done anything like this. Please tell me how I can stop hating him. And tell me how I can face the kids at school.

Janet

Dear Janet: You must stop hating him, not for his sake, but for yours.

Sometimes an alcoholic must hit bottom before he is ready to admit that he has a problem and seek the help he needs. Maybe this incident will be the turning point in your father's life. Let's hope so.

In the meantime, at school hold up your head. You are not responsible for your father's behavior.

Look into Alateen, a group for teen-agers who must live with alcoholic parents. Alateen is a branch of Alcoholics Anonymous and you will find it listed in the phone book under A.A. Good luck to you, honey, and chin up.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I have an answer for "Getting Notions"—the woman whose husband falls asleep in front of the TV and shows no sign of life after 8 p.m. She confessed that almost every man she sees is beginning to look good to her.

I had the problem many years ago, and this is how it was resolved. I had seven children in 12 years. I did all my house work, took a part-time job, not by choice but because I had to help pay the bills. My husband found something wrong every place he worked. Either the people were beneath him socially, or the work was too hard, or the hours were too long or the job was too far from the house.

He drifted from one thing to another and finally he went into "semi-retirement" at age 45. How do you like that for a healthy man with plenty of ability? Unfortunately, he had no interest in anything but sex.

With the responsibilities of seven children, plus the house and the job, I simply didn't have the time or the strength for "getting notions." So you see, Ann Landers, sometimes necessity forces a solution on us.

Mrs. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: I can't see any solution in your letter, dear. It looks as if you have merely exchanged one set of problems for another. But thank you for writing.

* * *

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Stop Dry Skin

When harsh weather robs the complexion of moist oil quicker than the skin can replace it, wrinkle-dryness results. Those with dry skins should take extra care this time of year. Ask your druggist for moist oil of Olay and apply on face and neck daily. It is the finest protection against wrinkle-dryness and gives you a healthier, lovelier appearance.

Understanding Youth: A Two-Way Street

A dad is pacing in the maternity ward. The nurse comes up and says, "It's a girl." The dad asks, "What color lipstick is she wearing?"

Whitman

And that's a way to avoid an aggravating family crisis later on.

Just accept it (you can't lick it) that today's girl-child is going to grow up much faster than you want her to.

The thing to remember, Dad (and Mom), is that these rites are as changeable as the weather.

Youth goes for change for the sake of change. They are tremendous conformists and terrible rebels at one and the same time. That's why they're so mixed up, and we can get even more mixed up trying to understand them.

They conform, in that once a new fad is "in," they all go in for it with a kind of primeval passion. They're rebels, in that just about the time the older generation has wearily given in and accepted a new trend—they abandon it.

The parent generation is prone to panic and always has been. With an incredible faculty for forgetting their own youth (and how they went through pretty much the same phases), they imagine that history has picked today's young people as the generation that is, at long last, really going to the dogs. Just about every batch of parents in recorded history has thought this. And they haven't gone to the dogs yet.

Ruckus

A dad I know was in the midst of a ruckus with his teen-age daughter on the question of whether she could stay out until 2 o'clock on Saturday night. Argument and counter-argument were bandied back and forth. But Dad was holding his own, insisting that 1 o'clock was late enough.

The girl's eyes moistened. "Oh, you're just a killjoy."

"No," Dad said. "I'm doing my job. Your job is to ask to stay out until 2 in the morning, and my job is to say no. If we both keep doing our jobs, everything will turn out fine."

That's the nugget of it. Understanding youth is a two-way street, and the wise parent avoids head-on collisions. He knows that his kids must rebel, express themselves, and go off on youth's tangents; he also knows that he must say no once in a while, sometimes frequently.

Otherwise, what is there to rebel against?

Permissiveness

This is where the old vogue of permissiveness failed. When there's a need to rebel and nothing to rebel against, kids just have to push on further and further.

Now, your child has grown up . . . what do you do when your son announces he is going to marry a certain girl and you know she is absolutely wrong for him? Or, it could be your daughter and the wrong boy.

Your first impulse may be to put your foot down—"Absolutely not, we won't stand for it!" The best thing to do with that impulse is to put it in the deep freeze. It won't help.

If you ever have to keep cool about anything, now is the time. Young love is powerful. So — "Handle with Care" is your very first directive. The second . . . time is on your side. If you can maintain at least a relative state of stability, just holding the line, as it were, the torch may simply burn out.

In your heart you know you are out for your son's good; you want to protect him from a grievous mistake; you're interested only in his happiness.

Fine, but don't tell him that. There's too much Pavlovian conditioning here; he knows that all his life when you've said, "This is for your own good," it's been something that hurts.

Oh, all the logical arguments are there: your boy is too young, he hasn't finished his schooling yet and can't support a wife; the girl is four years older than he is, she comes from a totally different background, they have nothing in common; the marriage would be a dreadful mistake, it would end in heartbreak for both of them — you're convinced of that.

And yet, though you have remained calm and played for time, six weeks have gone by and Junior still says, "We're in love and we know we're right for each other — we even think the same thoughts! This is it!"

This is your cue to keep listening. Listen a lot and don't talk too much. Above all don't argue. That's directive number three.

Good Airing

Your arguments won't mean a thing at this point. So simply keep the lines of communication open and let your boy bring his feelings out in the open like clothes on a washline. The airing will do a lot of good.

There's a large reservoir of love and loyalty between that son and you, even though sometimes during the troublesome teens you've wondered what happened to it. It's there. It's just being tempered, and, though there's heat in the process, it gets stronger.

Sure, it's a parent's job to follow his instincts and counsel his child the best he knows how. But certainly one of those very same instincts must tell him that he is not infallible.

If Junior does go ahead and marries the "wrong girl," it is still within the realm of possibility that she may turn out to be a wonderful wife to him and their marriage a glowing, happy one. It happens. And unless you have a crystal ball there is no absolute certainty to guide you here.

But one thing is certain; you're going to have a happier family if you stick together no matter what the upshot is. If he marries the girl, she's your new daughter. You did your best; now, if you can't lick 'em join 'em. It's the grown-up way. In any case, love insists upon it; I mean your love for your child.

Professional Volunteer Army Being Proposed

Chicago (AP) — A national draft conference rolled into heated debate Tuesay on the merits of an all-volunteer professional army

Two economists said the nation can well afford it; a top Defense Dept. planner called that "wishful thinking and naive."

Harold Wool, director of procurement policy for the Defense Dept., took sharp issue with statistics presented by Profs. Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago and Walter Y. Oi of the University of Washington fixing the added cost of a Professional Army of 2.7 million men at about $4 billion yearly.

Denouncing those estimates as guesswork, Wool said recent Pentagon studies have put the cost of maintaining a paid army at as high as $17 billion a year depending upon unemployment rates

Council Tabs Flemming

Miami Beach, Fla (AP)—Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the University of Oregon and a former U.S. cabinet member, Tuesday was elected president of the National Council of Churches.

He is the second layman to be named to the post since the interdenominational cooperative organization was formed 16 years ago.

A Methodist and for 20 years a federal government official in various important posts, Flemming succeeds Bishop Reuben H. Mueller of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The council's triennial General Assembly also elected the Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, of Valley Forge, Pa., of the American Baptist Convention, as first vice president.

The council includes most of the major Protestant and Orthodox churches in the country—30 of them with a total membership of 41 million

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming

Flemming served as secretary of health, education and welfare in the cabinet of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Before that he held various other high posts, including heading up the office of defense mobilization in which he was "manpower boss."

Chinese Walk Out

Moscow (UPI) — Two Chinese diplomats walked out of a Kremlin ceremony Tuesday when a top Soviet Communist leader accused China of trying to foment a new world war.

The charge was made by Nikolai Yegorychev, head of the Moscow Communist party organization, at a ceremony marking the 25th anniversary of the Battle of Moscow.

It was the third Chinese walkout from an official Soviet function in the past 30 days.

In his speech at the meeting, which was attended by most of the Kremlin leadership, Yegorychev also said Soviet relations with the United States "cannot change for the better" because of "anti-Soviet" American military preparations.

But his attack on the Chinese Communist leadership was even sharper, and as soon as he launched into it, two second rank Chinese diplomats at the ceremony strode out of the Kremlin Palace of Congresses.

Cal Strike End Urged

Berkeley, Calif (UPI) — The student government and newspaper at the University of California Tuesday urged an end to the campus strike.

Their appeals were made after the faculty gave its enthusiastic backing to Chancellor Roger W. Heyns for his strong stand against student rebels

The faculty organization, called the Academic Senate voted 795 to 28 Monday night to pledge continued support and cooperation" for Heyns. There were 143 abstentions

The same group had endorsed demands of the free speech movement two years ago following the arrest of nearly 800 in a sit-in demonstration

Early Tuesday the Student Senate, which earlier had supported the current strike, voted 13 to 7 against the boycott Speakers for the majority said a strike suspension would provide time for negotiation to provide a new direction"

Groups in Plea for Zephyr

By United Press International

The State Railway Commission, Chambers of Commerce from Lincoln, McCook and Holdrege and the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce asked the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to deny an application seeking to discontinuse the California Zephyr.

The Western Pacific Railroad has requested the action.

The Nebraska interests contend the passenger service through the Midwest would be reduced if the Zephyr were discontinued.

The Western Pacific has told the ICC its profits are small from the Zephyr route. To remedy this, the State Railway Commission suggests the U.S. Post Office Department award more contracts to the carrier.

Without the Zephyr, it said, there would be a transportation burden thrown on other railways and bus and air lines

Former Pierce Man Killed in Copter Crash

Plainview—A former Pierce resident, Alton Manzer, was one of four men who died when a helicopter plunged into the ocean off the coast of California.

Mr. Manzer, an employe of an oil company, is the brother-in-law of Mrs. Oakley Holmes of Plainview. He was returning from work on an off-shore oil rig when the helicopter crashed into 100 feet of water. His body was recovered and services were held in New Hall, California.

Mr. Manzer is survived by his wife, the former Evelyn Grebe of Pierce, two daughters, one son, his mother, a sister and one grandchild.

Platte Center Co-op Elevator Burns Monday

Platte Center (AP) — The Farmers Co-op elevator at Platte Center was destroyed by fire. There was no immediate determination of cause or estimate of loss. The elevator was fully insured.

Only a small quantity of oats was in storage, the government having just called in some 45,000 bushels of grain from storage. Three years ago a Co-op elevator across the street burned.

'Inmate's Rights Violated'

High Court Reviews Case

By Associated Press

An attorney for a State Penitentiary inmate told the Nebraska Supreme Court his client's constitutional rights were violated when he was denied the aid of counsel to appeal a 1962 second degree murder conviction.

Michael T. Levy of Omaha, representing Fred Dabney, serving a 20-year term on the Douglas County conviction, said the inmate was an uneducated indigent who did not know of his rights to an attorney.

Levy said U.S. Supreme Court decisions have established that the right of an indigent to the aid of counsel at the time of his trial and on appeal from his conviction is a constitutional requirement.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Mel Kammerlohr said the state does not have to provide counsel for an indigent when the court is not even aware that the defendant desires to appeal.

He said Dabney never specifically requested that an appeal be filed until after the statutory limitation for appeal had passed.

The inmate is seeking review of his conviction under Nebraska's 1965 post-conviction law.

Supreme Court judges also took under advisement a lawsuit stemming from an Oct. 25, 1960, car-truck collision near the Sandhills community of Arnold which claimed four lives.

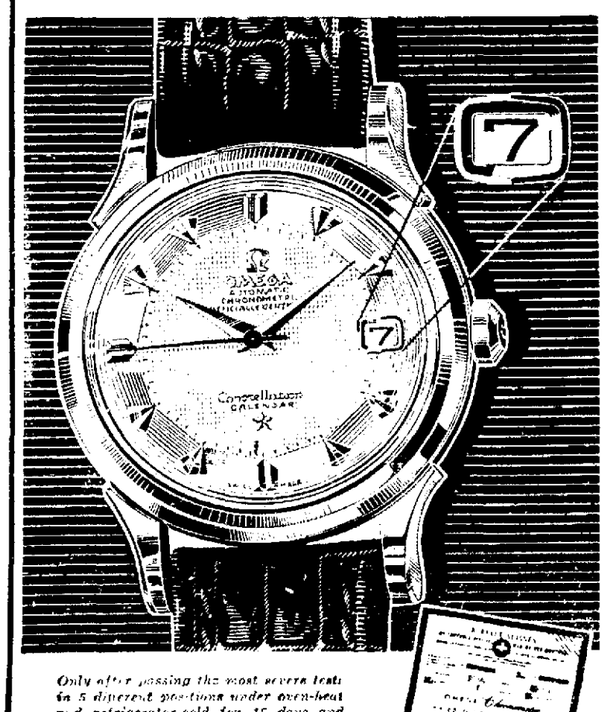

The administrators of the estates of two of the deceased, Miss Shirla Sheets and Miss Sonjia Larreau, appealed a Custer County District Court jury finding that the driver of the car, Daniel Davenport, was not negligent.

Davenport and a third passenger, Eldon Connely, were also killed in the mishap.

Nebraska assistant basketball coach Ed Stevens isn't nearly so sure just how good Wyoming is as he is about how much trouble they can cause.

Ed, holed up in a motel room in Oklahoma City where he is fogged in, knows the Cowboys can be beaten because he saw it happen Saturday night in Stillwater where Oklahoma State turned the trick, 73-64.

He just doesn't know how to get out of the fog after the game.

Nebraska coach Joe Cipriano will have to figure that out sometime after his Cornhuskers tangle with Wyoming in Laramie Wednesday night. Game time is 8:35 p.m.

Joe didn't have to figure out a game plan. Ed helped him do that over the telephone.

Wyoming, victim of a 60 per cent shooting night by Oklahoma State, has played only once, the same as Nebraska, which took its opener from Oregon here Friday night.

Wyoming isn't big with junior Ken Collins at 6-6 representing their tallest performer. And they are green, starting three juniors and a sophomore. But size and experience sometimes doesn't mean a lot in Laramie where visiting teams have a habit of finding out what defeat is all about.

"They are all good leapers," Cipriano said.

"Tom Asbury is a good all around ball player."

It will be a game of two pressing teams and Cipriano is hopeful his team will show a little improvement in ball handling which was a little ragged in the opening game.

Big Eight Teams Still Winning

By Associated Press

California's Bears swamped Oklahoma, 108-81, Monday night in an intersectional basketball game notable for the high scoring records established.

The combined total of 189 points is a new high for a game played in Harmon Gymnasium. Cal's 108 is a record for the University.

The Bears press forced Oklahoma into 22 ball control errors.

Iowa State and Kansas scored convincing victories over Big Ten opponents as Big Eight basketball teams enjoyed another winning night and the pre-season statements of both coaches took on significance.

"I hope Don Smith can become the great player I know he can be," said Glen Anderson, Iowa State coach.

Smith was just that as he scored 36 points, grabbed 16 rebounds, outplayed Minnesota's big Tom Kondla and led Iowa State to an 87-69 victory at Ames. Smith was ill and below par during Iowa State's first two games. The Cyclones now stand 2-1.

"Our veterans must improve if we are to be a title-contending team," said Ted Owens, Kansas coach.

Jayhawk veterans Jo Jo White, Ron Franz and Rodger Bohnenstiehl had their best game of the season in a 94-70 romp over Ohio State.

Franz had 19 points and 12 rebounds, playmaker White shot in 23 points and Bohnenstiehl, named "The Machine" for his deadly shooting, scored 15 and grabbed 12 rebounds. Bohnenstiehl has a 21.3 average to lead Kansas in a perfect 3-0 start.

At Boulder, Colorado's Pat Frink threw in 36 points, 18 in each half, as the Buffs beat Utah's defending Western Athletic Conference champs, 93-89, for a 2-1 record.

Oklahoma State also reached 2-1 with a 72-69 overtime victory over South Dakota State at Stillwater. Missouri dropped to 1-1 with a 77-65 loss at Indiana, despite 14 points and 17 rebounds by Gene Jones.

Tide Misses No. 1

Happy Ara Likes Polls Top Position

South Bend, Ind. (AP) — Coach Ara Parseghian and the student body took the fact that Notre Dame was named the nation's national collegiate football champions in stride Monday night.

Since the story did not break until late in the afternoon, the student body had little chance to demonstrate.

"I guess the students were studying and not listening to their radios," said a campus spokesman. "They'll know all about it Tuesday when the Chicago morning papers hit the campus.

"But, let's face it. They expected to be No. 1."

Parseghian who was informed of the vote before leaving for Chicago and the annual Knute Rockne Memorial Awards Dinner, said he was "absolutely delighted."

"Being No. 1 is a fitting honor for a great group of seniors who have worked hard the last three years and also for the younger members of the team who filled in so capably this year.

"I am extremely happy to hear the results of the Associated Press' final poll and it certainly makes our season complete."

The Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, topped off accolades for the Irish's football season by telling 1,500 banquet guests that the university "takes enormous pride of the team's achievement and especially its achievement in winning the national championship."

Notre Dame Athletic Director Ed Krause said this season's team was "one of the greatest in Notre Dame history—and I've never seen a team like it in my career at the university at which I started as a player in 1926."

"Ara," he added, "is Coach of the Year in my book."

Parseghian reiterated that since Notre Dame does not belong to a conference and has a policy against postseason play, the only objective to shoot for is No. 1

Academic Team Lists 2 Huskers

Kansas City (AP) — Kansas State's Dave Langford, with a 3.7 grade average on a scale of 4.0, and Missouri's Dan Schuppan, 3.5 in prelaw, have the top grade averages on the All-Big Eight academic football team, announced Tuesday by Wayne Duke, the league's executive director.

The 22-man first team was chosen from a list of 60 nominees with at least a B average, or 3.0, during their last semester, quarter or year. The top 22 become candidates for the academic All America, to be chosen by sports information directors.

On the all-academic offensive team are Charles Weber of Missouri and Jerry Philpott of Oklahoma State at ends; J. B. Christian of Oklahoma State and Mike Montler of Colorado at tackles; Jim Osberg of Nebraska and John Beard of Colorado at guards; Bruce Heath of Colorado at center; Tim Van Galder of Iowa State, quarterback; Ron Shotts of Oklahoma and Happy Settle of Oklahoma State, halfbacks; Gary Panratz, K-State, fullback.

On the defensive team are Schuppan and Bruce Peterson of Kansas, ends; Langford and Bill Powell, Missouri, tackles; Bill Wohlford, Kansas, middle guard; Mike Sweatman, Kansas, Rick Goodwin, Oklahoma, and Dick Anderson, Colorado, Colorado, linebackers; and Marv Mueller, Nebraska, Jim Whitaker, Missouri, and Mitch Borota, K-State, backs.

Powell, a 3.33 student in engineering, made the team for the third straight year. Other repeaters from 1965 are Langford, Osberg and Shotts on offense; Peterson, Powell, Wohlford and Anderson on defense.

Missouri and Colorado placed four men each on the first team, Kansas, K-State and OSU three each, Nebraska and Oklahoma two each and Iowa State one.

One Sure Way To Stay Warm

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Thorfinnson of 3333 M St. don't mind having squirrels around their house; as a matter of fact, they rather enjoy their company.

But when one came down their chimney Tuesday morning and entered their furnace—well that was going just a little too far.

"It's a good thing the furnace didn't come on," Thorfinnson said, "or we might have had roasted squirrel for supper."

But that didn't happen. The small animal jumped out of the furnace and ran out the basement door.

Nebraska Freshmen Win by 45

Tom Scantlebury led a hot-shooting Nebraska freshman cage team to its second straight victory of the young season, a 105-60 mauling of Creston, Iowa, Junior College at Nebraska Coliseum Monday night.

Scantlebury, 6-2 Oakland, Calif., guard, fired in 32 points to pace a team effort of 53 per cent from the field as the Husker yearlings canned 44 of their 83 floor attempts. They are now averaging 103 points a game.

Creston, which hit only 29 per cent on 21 of 73, was in the game for the first five minutes only, trailing only 32-28 at that point, the closest the visitors ever came. Bellevue frosh Tom Frey led Creston with 13 points. Creston is now 3-2.

The Huskers had a 64-39 margin on the boards but committed 32 of the game's 56 turnovers in the ragged contest. Ken Cauble added 13 as the whole team saw action.

DeWitt Bows Out

Cincinnati, Ohio (AP)—William Orville DeWitt, the only general manager ever to have had pennant winners in both major leagues, has bowed out as owner-president of the Cincinnati Reds in favor of a group of local investors.

Francis L. Dale, publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer, announced Monday night his group has bought all the baseball team's stock for $7 million and will sign a 40-year lease with the city to help Cincinnati build a new riverfront stadium.

DeWitt, a baseball veteran who four years ago bought the Reds for a reported $4.6 million, will continue running the club until the deal is approved by the National League, probably some time in January.

Manager Dave Bristol and the Reds' front office staff also will continue in their jobs.

The new manager will have "a pretty free hand," Dale said.

Pius X Plans More Zip For Fast-Paced Attack

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Pius X, which employed a scrambling, running game successfully in advancing to the state tourney a couple of seasons back, will try to put a little more zip in its attack this season by a return to those tactics.

"We hope to be able to run more, but it will all depend on whether or not we can get the ball," says coach Lane Birkel.

On paper, the Thunderbolts would appear to have some potential here with 6-8 junior Jim Regelean on hand to handle the center spot and carry the rebounding load.

Like most sophomores Jim was a little erratic, but his extensive playing time last year should produce dividends this season.

"He's better, but still has a lot of room for improvement," notes Birkel, who hopes that his improvement will be noticeable enough to force opponents to design special coverage.

That should provide more operating room for four other lettermen — seniors John McLaughlin, John Hadwick, Joe Glenn and Dan Jablonski.

Along with Regelean, McLaughlin (6-3) saw considerable duty last season and was especially effective in the last half of the season.

Jablonski (6-1) figures to help out in the rebounding department with Dale Darnell (6-1) also a contender for a starting forward spot.

Birkel looks for the play of his guards to be a big factor in the Pius X campaign.

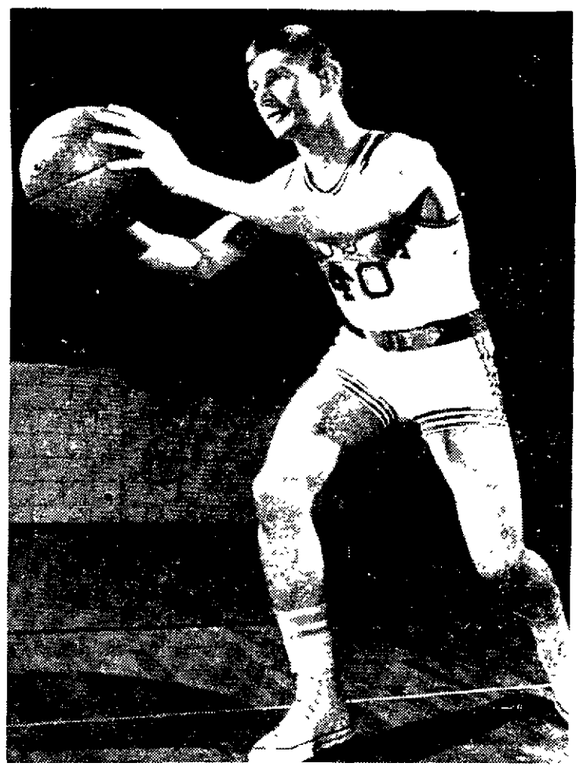

"We've got some good competition for the starting jobs," the Thunderbolt coach observes.

Glenn and Hadwick, a pair of 5-11 seniors, each saw limited duty last season.

Joining in the race for the backcourt spots are seniors Curt Clyne, Tom Schommer, Rick Shibata, Mike Adams and junior Mike Sullivan.

Birkel will play either Adams or Sullivan at a forward spot, but hasn't decided on which one belongs where at this time.

Senior Bill Arth (6-2) offers additional support for the front line troops and is being groomed as the back-up man behind Regelean.

Pius' John McLaughlin.

Bruins—NCAA Cage Power No. 1

New York (AP) — Lew Alcindor's sensational debut as a college pivotman has given powerful UCLA an early strangle-hold in The Associated Press basketball ratings.

The Bruins, who drubbed Southern California 105-90 in their season opener behind a 56-point spree by 7-foot-1 soph Alcindor, top The AP's national poll by an overwhelming margin.

A somewhat shaky leader in last week's pre-season poll, UCLA drew 32 of 34 first-place votes in this week's ballot of sports writers and broadcasters. The Bruins, who led runner-up Texas Western by 20 points a week ago, hold a 337-288 point bulge today over the defending NCAA champions.

Texas Western romped to two victories last week and retained its second-place edge over Kentucky, which opened with a 104-84 triumph over Virginia. The Miners drew one of the remaining first-place votes while fourth-ranked Louisville received the other.

NU Trip Roster Tabs 57

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney has named a 57-man travel squad for the Sugar Bowl and the pre-bowl training session at Brownsville, Tex.

The team will leave for Brownsville Dec. 20, then go to New Orleans Dec. 27.

The football team began early conditioning drills on their own Monday and will work as a group beginning about Dec. 14.

The only notable absence on the travel squad was that of three-year letterman Richard Czap.

The defensive tackle has been used sparingly this season due to a back injury. Czap was drafted last year by the professionals as a five-year man.

Backing up Jim McCord at that position will be Lou Narish.

With a couple of exceptions, Devaney is going two-deep, then taking a scout team.

Quarterbacking the scout team will be sophomore Ernie Sigler.

Included on the list are a handful of redshirts—tackle Bob Liggett, guard Carl Ashman, center Roger Kudrna, halfback Mike Green and defensive back Adrian Fiala.

All are on the scout team except Fiala.

Rumor Mill Still Going On Devaney

From News Wires

The rumor mill which annually has Nebraska coach Bob Devaney going here or there, now has him listed as a possible candidate for the vacant post as general manager of the Denver Broncos.

Gerald H. Phipps, chairman of the Bronco Board, said he knew nothing of it.

Bob was on a speaking and recruiting trip and could not be reached for comment.

OSU's Cutchin Linked With Vanderbilt Position

Chattanooga, Tenn. (AP)—The Chattanooga Post said Tuesday Phil Cutchin, head football coach at Oklahoma State University, is expected to be named to succeed Jack Green as head coach at Vanderbilt University in Nashville.

In a front page story, Sports Writer Ken Wynn said Cutchin was talking with Alexander Heard, chancellor of Vanderbilt, in Kansas City Tuesday.

"I have no comment," Cutchin said, when contacted by telephone, "but I will be available for comment tomorrow in Stillwater."

Cutchin, 45, has been at Oklahoma State four years, and was given a new contract last year which still has three years to run.

Cutchin played college ball in Kentucky, and was the captain of Paul (Bear) Bryant's first team there in 1952.

In Stillwater, OSU athletic Director Henry P. Iba said Cutchin had not talked to him about it and he was sure the head coach had made no decision. Iba said:

"He hasn't talked to me about it at all and I'm sure he would if he had been seriously talking with those people. They may have talked to him in Kansas City but I'm certain he won't make any decision until he talks to me. I would definitely know if he had made a decision, and I'm sure he has not."

Cutchin is in Kansas City attending the Big Eight Conference winter meeting.

He told radio station WKY of Oklahoma City by telephone:

"I feel like I have a real fine job and I'm not looking for a job at the present time."

Asked if he had an offer, he said he wasn't going to discuss it, and added he was happy at Oklahoma State.

"You can always be happier," he said, "but I'd like to stick to my regular statement. I have a real good job and I'm not searching for another at the present time."

Meanwhile at Kansas, Athletic Director Wade Stinson has had 15 applicants for the head coaching vacancy at his school including Don Fambrough and Ben Lee from the staff of outgoing coach Jack Mitchell.

Stinson said he would go after the best man available, then talk salary terms later.

Lincoln Awarded AAU Meet

Lincoln is moving rapidly toward becoming the wrestling capital of the nation and another step was taken in this direction Monday.

Lincoln Monday was awarded the 1968 National AAU Wrestling Championships by the Amateur Athletic Union, meeting in Honolulu, Hawaii.

This means Lincoln will be host for the national championships for a third year in a row. The Capital City entertained the championships for the first time last spring and is already making plans for the second meet in Lincoln this spring.

Lincoln's wrestling efforts are led by Newt Copple, who attended the Hawaii meetings. Other cities bidding for the meet were Detroit, New York, Chicago and Tempe, Ariz.

AAU officials said they were awarding the championships to Lincoln for the third straight time because of the manner in which the 1966 meet was conducted by Copple's group.

In addition to bringing the national championships to Lincoln, Copple has also staged the Great Plains AAU Championships here the past four years.

Tackle Davis Tabbed

Doane Gets First All-America Pick

By CHUCK WOODLING

They don't come any bigger than Doane tackle Fred Davis — at least not on the Associated Press Little all-America football team announced Tuesday

Davis a 245-pound junior, is the first Doane player ever selected to the squad He's also the heaviest man among the 1966 honorees

"I'm quite honored and real surprised," Davis said from his dormitory at the Crete school Monday night on first hearing of the award

Doane coach Al Papik whose Tigers compiled a 7 0-1 record this season for their first undefeated season also numbered among the surprised

Papik was on a recruiting trip in McCook Monday night when he heard the news

I didn t realize Fred was in contention for AP's Little all-America,' Papik admitted 'I've been contacted by the NAIA about him being on that team They asked for background and a picture and I was thinking he might get something there "

Fred Davis
Doane's All-America

The NAIA all-Americans will be announced Saturday, but the AP team is considered a bigger honor because it includes NCAA small colleges as well as NAIA schools. Doane is affiliated with both groups.

Davis made the Little all-America team as an offensive tackle the position he played most of the year

'I played a little defensive end when someone was hurt," Davis pointed out "Actually, I like defense a little better than offense, but when you get right down to it, it's all football anyway "

Fred is listed at 245 pounds, but admits he's down to 240 now after the eight-game grid grind

"I really think this was my best year," the three-year letterman admitted a little sheepishly. "Experience has helped me a lot, but putting on weight probably has helped me more."

As a freshman out of Marshall High School in Chicago, Fred broke into the Doane starting lineup as a 212-pound tackle He was down to 198 at the end of the season, however

"I reported at 235 as a sophomore and dropped to 225 after the season," Davis noted "This year I came at 245 and held it pretty well."

There's no telling how much the growing 20-year-old will weigh when he reports next year.

In addition to his football exploits, Fred also dabbles in the shot put during track season. He dabbled enough to take sixth place in the NAIA indoor last year. His best toss is 53-8 and that could go up this spring with his added weight.

"I heard about Fred from his high school track coach," Papik recalled "Fred was supposed to be headed for Western Michigan, but when his football coach called me we decided to give him both a track and a football scholarship "

Davis obviously will start getting pro football feelers now that he's made the mythical AP squad

"If I had a chance to go pro I would," the big tackle said, "but I'm looking forward to a career in social work now "

He works in a children's home in his native Chicago during the summer months.

Papik, noting the overall effect of the honor declared:

This is quite a thing for us and the whole state It's not often a school in Nebraska has a player who gets this honor "

The only other Nebraskan on the squad was Omaha middle guard Dave Rak who made the honorable mention list Both Rak and Davis were first team choices on the 1966 Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star all-state college team announced two weeks ago

Cowboys To Repeat Mat Title?

National champion Oklahoma State which dominated the Great Plains AAU Wrestling Tournament in Lincoln a year ago with freshmen and second stringers, will return this year with its front-liners

"We plan to bring 24 or 25 wrestlers to Lincoln." says coach Myron Roderick, and the names he lists include many who helped the Cowboys to the 1966 NCAA Championship.

Because of a schedule conflict, Roderick was unable to bring his top wrestlers to the Great Plains meet a year ago but the Cowboys still managed to take home the trophies for most falls (Jerry Stone) and fastest fall (Floyd Johnson)

Both Johnson at 123 pounds and Stone at 160 pounds will be among the O-State entries in this weekend's competition

In fact the Cowboys will have a leading contender at each of the weight classes and it is not beyond the realm of possibility that they could walk off with all the championships.

Oklahoma State will be led by Gene Davis, the national champion at 145 pounds

Their list of entries also will include Fred Fozzard, NCAA runnerup at 177 pounds; Jim Rogers, fourth in the NCAA at 152 pounds; and Bob Drebenstedt, sixth in the NCAA at 167 pounds

Fozzard and Drebenstedt won championships in the Great Plains meet at Pershing Auditorium two years ago, but were not present last winter

Fozzard lost only two matches last season, both to Iowa State's Tom Peckham in the finals of the Big Eight and the finals of the NCAA.

Roderick's perennial national contenders were anchored this year by heavyweight Bruce Wilhelm, a 6-4 245 pounder who can toss the shot 60 feet and press 340 pounds in weightlifting

Wilhelm finished fourth in the Great Plains meet a year ago

Competition is set for Pershing Auditorium at 1 30 and 7 p m both Friday and Saturday

Hunting Improves

Times have changed, and hunting has improved in Nebraska in the past 30 years, says an ex-Nebraskan, George E. Beveridge of Atlanta, Ga., in a letter to M O. Steen, Game Commission director.

"Hunting was good in western Nebraska this year," Beveridge wrote. "Our party of five shot 19 pheasants opening day and had no trouble getting limits of ducks each day of the week I spent there With air travel being what it is, you can invite anyone in the United States to hunt with you and offer a successful weekend hunt.

"I left Nebraska in the early Thirties when game was scarce and about the only plentiful species was jack rabbits. It certainly has been a pleasure in recent years to visit the old home place and enjoy some good shooting. Keep up the good work!"

City Council Still Studying South and Vine Street Improvement Projects

The City Council has deferred for further study controversial South and Vine street improvement projects following public hearings, a revised Vine and No. 48th St. plan and other pressing city government business.

Council members agreed to again talk about the Vine St. improvement from 35th to LaBrea and 48th St., T to Wilshire Blvd. next Monday after the city public works department said they weren't ready now to comment on a proposed revised plan submitted by North 48th St. businessmen.

The South project, Memorial Drive to Normal Blvd. was also postponed until the law department could prepare a council sponsored amendment approving a 44-foot street without medians, in opposition to what is being proposed by the city public works department.

Council members also asked for a report on how to remove the proposed median across South St., at Memorial Drive, which was approved in an earlier South Street improvement district, so left turns on Memorial Drive will be allowed.

Revised Plan

Charles Thorne, attorney for No. 48th businessmen, outlined a revised No. 48th and Vine St. street improvement project as prepared by Herbert Johnson, head of a Kansas City, Mo., consulting firm, who was the over-all director of the Lincoln Metropolitan Area Transportation Study, which was released during the summer.

The plan basically provides four 12' moving traffic lanes and two 12' medial turn lanes, one in each direction, or 72' non-divided roadway, for the length of the project between "O" Street and Holdrege. There also would be short, raised medians at some key intersections such as 48th & O, 48th & R and 48th & Vine.

There also would be similar improvements on Vine St., within the project area.

The council was told by Thorne and others that some 75% of the abutting property owners on both sides of O, to Holdrege favor the revised plan and will contribute from $100,000 to $250,000 toward the street improvement project estimated in the vicinity of $300,000.

"Our plan could make one of the most beautiful, unique and pleasant streets to drive on," said No. 48th Street property owner Newt Copple. "The project also calls for 100 street lights and planting areas."

The revised plan also calls for widening and improvement of the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks on No. 48th.

"The 24' medial turn lanes provides adequate storage area for turning movements into abutting property and should in effect reduce accident potentials and the "friction" caused by these turning vehicles with respect to through movements," said Thorne.

Capacity

The objective of our Revised Design is to provide adequate capacity for through movements and an opportunity to provide storage for left turns at intersections and to abutting property between major intersections, according to Thorne.

"The cost of providing the additional lanes is approximately the same as providing a 4-lane facility with a continuous medial strip," said Thorne. "A medial strip costs as much to construct as the additional pavement required to provide a 72' non-divided roadway."

Thorne said the proposed revised Vine design provides a 16' space in the middle of the road to accommodate turning vehicles, two 12' traffic lanes and two 10' parking lanes.

Plans and specifications drawn up by the city Public Works Dept. include widening Vine to a paving width of 44 feet, four-lanes, from 36th to La Brea and installing raised concrete medians on both Vine and 48th leading up to the intersection from some 600 feet away.

The Vine project is estimated at $322,000.

The proposed medians in the South St., improvement district also has caused objections of property owners in the area.

Under the proposed improvement district, South St., between Memorial Drive and Normal Blvd... would be widened to four 11-foot lanes and with a 15-foot space for left turns and a median at the 33rd and South Intersection.

The proposed median also would block left hand turns off Memorial Drive and 34th St., and were recommended by the city engineering department.

Property owners objecting said the widening and median would greatly hinder traffic flow, not needed, would be a hardship.

Robert Guenzel, speaking as a property owner, said he favored a redesign to allow left turns on Memorial Drive, felt 33rd shouldn't be opened through Antelope Park and the city was creating a situation of moving traffic at expense of people.

Acting Public Works Director Bob Obering said his department favors South St. being done as the city proposes or not done at all.

The opening of 33rd was not a prime reason for the medians, said Obering, but this street opening could be done by destroying only 10 trees.

Decision By 'Q' in '60 Days'

Moving From Plattsmouth?

Special to The Journal

At a meeting in Omaha, officials of the Burlington Railroad and Burlington Refrigerator Express Co. told a group headed by Plattsmouth Mayor Dale Bowman that a decision whether to transfer refrigerator car work from Plattsmouth to Lincoln would be made in 30 to 60 days.

In the event the railroad decided to transfer the work, it would not be before June at the earliest, said I. C. Ethington, vice president of Burlington operations.

The Plattsmouth delegation said 96-year relationship between the railroad and several generations of Plattsmouth families argues for retention of shop work there, and claimed the area contains a better reservoir of skilled labor than does Lincoln, site of Burlington's Havelock shops.

Trailer Repair

The proposal submitted by the Plattsmouth group urged the railroad to modernize the present shop to include a refrigerated truck trailer repair facility or to erect a new car shop. In return Plattsmouth officials offered to build and lease back the new shop on a tax-free basis.

To help provide skilled employes the city promised to establish training courses in mechanical refrigeration in local schools.

A. E. Egbers, assistant to president for labor relations of the Burlington, said liberal job transfer provisions are being offered employes in the hope they will remain. He said Plattsmouth employes would be integrated into the larger Havelock force and guaranteed a job and maintenance of earnings level for five years, moving expenses and five days pay during moving, guarantee against loss on sale or lease of homes and a $400 allowance for incidental moving expenses or $400 bonus payment to those who choose to commute.

Retain Benefits

Egbers said transferring Plattsmouth workers will retain all pass, hospital and medical privileges, paid life insurance policies during working and retirement years, railroad retirement benefits and an additional railroad financed pension.

J. J. Quinn, president of Western Fruit Express, Fruit Growers Express and Burlington Refrigerator Express Companies, said their 23,500 cars are serviced at shops in Jacksonville, Fla., Spokane, Wash., and Alexandria, Va., as well as Plattsmouth.

In recent years, he said, shops have been closed at Atlanta, Indiana Harbor and St. Paul. Quinn said Plattsmouth operations "have been a matter of concern for some time. We can't do the kind of job there we want to do. But we would prefer to stay in Nebraska if at all possible."

Demos Eye Legislature

'Partisanship May Be Okay'

As forecast several weeks ago, Nebraska Democratic officials are taking a new look at the idea of a partisan legislature — something they've opposed for years.

State Democratic chairman John Mitchell says the Republican election sweep in Nebraska "renews our interest in a partisan legislature."

But he added at this juncture it does not appear Democrats would gain anything from attaching party labels to state legislators.

There are three registered Republicans in Nebraska for every two Democrats. State legislators have been elected on a non-partisan ticket in Nebraska since 1937 when the nation's only one-house legislature became operative.

Democratic national committeewoman Maurine Biegert of Shickley said she has always opposed a partisan legislature "but now I'm not so sure."

State Vice Chairman J. J. Exon of Lincoln also is "beginning to take a new look at the subject." He opposed a 1963 effort to put the question to voters.

101st Airborne Well Seek Out 'Enemy' Troops

Cadiz, Ky. (AP) — More than 11,000 troops from the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky., will seek out about 450 "enemy" guerrillas in mock warfare in western Kentucky this week.

The "enemy" will be Special Forces (Green Beret) personnel from Ft. Bragg, N.C.

The 101st will try to find the Special Forces men, who will play the part of Viet Cong. The guerrillas have invited private citizens in the 200,000-acre area to take part in the exercise.

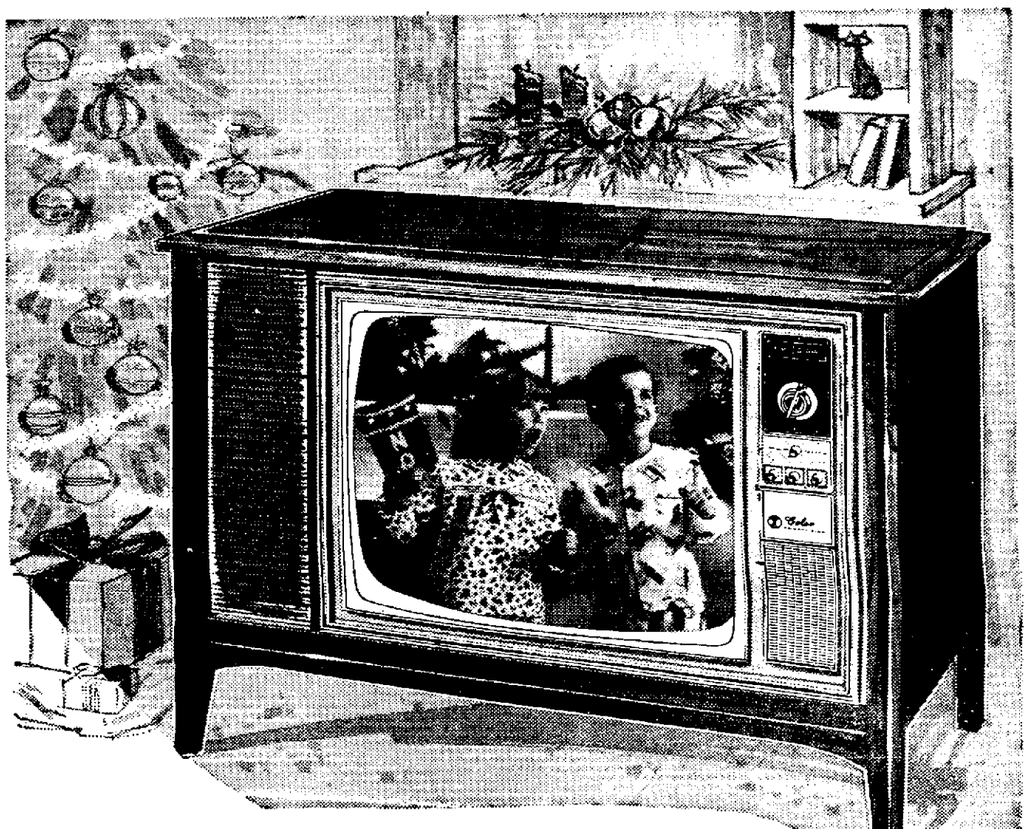

Some may be informers, hiding guerrillas in barns and lending farm equipment to aid movement of military implements. Some of the "enemy" will even be dressed in civilian clothes, mingling with Christmas shoppers

Tax Commissioner Dworak:

'Add Sales or Income Tax Administrative Costs'

State Tax Commissioner George Dworak has told Gov. Frank Morrison that costs associated with administering a state sales or income tax would have to be added to the $1,956,591 budget his agency has proposed for the coming two years.

That budget provides for an appropriation increase of $503,361 over the present authorization.

Since nobody knows yet what particular kind of tax system the 1967 Legislature will choose to enact, replacing the constitutionally-eliminated state property tax, Dworak said there's no way to figure administrative costs in advance.

Simply for some preparation purposes, Dworak said his staff has "done quite a little research" lately on what's required to establish state sales tax administrative staff and machinery.

This research was started after the Nov. 8 general election, at which time the people booted the state property tax and also repealed its suggested replacement, the 1965 state income tax.

Conducting a public hearing for the tax commissioner's budget request, Morrison scoffed at the idea state government has "any such thing as a tax crisis."

'Next Year'

The governor contended the property tax levied this year will still be collected next year, while a new state revenue system is being constructed by lawmakers.

Gov. Morrison noted Alliance Sen. George Gerdes has said he will propose that the tax commissioner be stripped of his authority to administer the 1963 mandatory county real estate reappraisal law.

Dworak said he doubted such a move would get through the Legislature, since 50 of the 93 counties already are in one stage or another of the reappraisal work.

Contracts in Nebraska Off

New York — F. W. Dodge Co., a division of McGraw-Hill Inc., reported that October contracts for future construction in Nebraska totaled $22,118,000, down 41% compared to October 1965.

The breakdown of October contracts for future construction in the area:

Nonresidential at $101,021,-down 54%; residential at $6,490,000, down 41%; and nonbuilding construction at $8,319,000, down 20%.

The cumulative total of construction contracts for the first ten months of 1966 amounted to $311,259,000, a 5% increase compared to the corresponding 1965 period, Dodge reported.

A breakdown of the first ten months' building figures showed:

Nonrseidential at $101,021,-000, down 5%; residential at $98,693,000, down 3%; and nonbuilding construction at $111,545,000, up 26%.

Shopping Center Will House NBC Computer

North Platte — Westfield Shopping Center here has been designated to house a proposed $500,000 computer center Lincoln's National Bank of Commerce (NBC) will construct.

Harold Hoppe, Lincoln businessman who also has business interests in North Platte, was given the contract for the building to house the operations.

Hoppe said he planned to add two buildings to the shopping center at a cost of $60,000; the building housing the computer was estimated to cost $35,000.

Hoppe will build the building and NBC will lease it from the Hoppe company. The computer operation, one of three in the state under the direction of NBC, will be completed by April, according to Bernard Farmer, vice president in charge of computer operations for NBC.

NBC has computer operations installed in Lincoln and has another, similar to that at North Platte, planned for Fremont, according to Farmer.

The building will measure 40 by 40 feet, and is designed especially to house the computer equipment. According to Farmer, key computer personnel will be taken to the North Platte division, but local clerical help will be employed.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY SYLVANUS M. DUVALL, PH.D., AND EVELYN M. DUVALL, PH.D

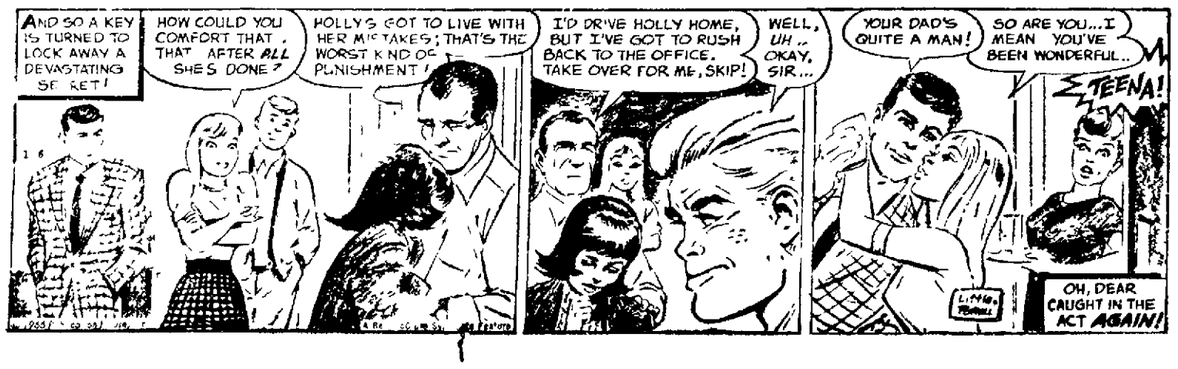

1. Yes, it happens. At the Duke University parapsychology laboratory, they find that better than 76 per cent of the thousands of thought-transference cases involve persons who are closely attached to one another. They find that love is a powerful motivating interest which heightens one's extrasensory perception. Lovers often find themselves thinking the same thoughts even to the point of being able to finish one another's sentences.

2. Most people are neurotic at times! True— False—

True. This is the familiar state of nervousness that makes one fearful or anxious or depressed about the problems one faces. You feel tense and may be apprehensive and suffer such physical symptoms as headaches, sleeplessness or upset stomach. Only when it continues or develops into more serious conditions is it usually called illness—an impaired capacity for carrying on the business of living. Most of us could improve our mental health by more self-insight and better coping procedures. Counseling helps many out of feeling miserable unnecessarily.

POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Not This This

Mother. "You'll have to finish Granny's present soon or she won't get it by Christmas and you must write your cards and don't forget . . ."

Mother "Would you like for me to help you make a list of the things you must do this week? Then you can check them off as you do them."

A written list does not arouse the resentment that spoken parental reminders often do.
